Area Roundup

Cotton Crop Is Bad News

ROSEBUD
The boll weevil, lack of rain, then too much rain spelled a bad cotton crop for area farmers. Many farmers have turned in their crop as disasters to the ASCS office, and have shredded and plowed up their fields in the area.

Burglaries Keep Police Busy

ROCKDALE
Three burglaries and an arrest for possession and cultivation of marijuana combined to make a hectic weekend for Rockdale police. A safecracker was surprised in the junior high school office, National Building Center was hit, and the downtown Henry Garage building was broken into Thursday night.

Vandals Hit SU Campus

GEORGETOWN
The Southwestern University campus, normally calm and peaceful over the summer months, was subjected to vandalism in recent weeks. Damage is estimated between $3000 and $4000, a sharp contrast to losses in other years. The university is offering a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest of those responsible for damage.

Heavy Rainfall Reported

SOMERVILLE
From 6 to 8.8 inches of rain was reported in the Somerville area during the recent rainy spell. Official report was 3.70 inches from August 26 to Sept. 3. A light twister hit a home in Somerville during a rainstorm, driving a sheet of tin through the roof and wrapping tin around a TV antenna.

Dow Explores For Lignite

HEARNE
Dow Chemical Co. has set up an office in Hearne as a central location for their activities in the exploration of lignite. The northern part of Robertson County is excellent for lignite resources and exploratory drilling has begun.

Trustees Set School Tax Rate

BELTON
The recent tax re-evaluation study authorized by the board of trustees of the Belton school district shows a new property valuation of $143,320,996. Based on this study, the board set a tax rate of $1.50 per $100 on 40 percent total valuation.

Sheriff Asks For Help

CALDWELL
In a called meeting the Burleson County Commissioners Court voted to hire an additional deputy sheriff for the sheriff's department. Citing the increased criminal activity near the Lake Somerville Reservoir and the Cade Lakes and recent federal regulations about overtime, the sheriff made the requests for a deputy and a salary increase.

Community School Set Up

MCGREGOR
Five courses were set up here when 60 people attended a meeting to determine what McGregor people want in the way of adult education. This was the first step in developing the Community School concept to be accomplished through cooperation with McLennan Community College and TSTL.

Meeting Set To Organize Local Girl Scouting

An opportunity to reactivate Girl Scouting in Cameron is being offered to girls and adults at an organizational meeting to be held Wednesday, September 11 at 8 p.m. in the Cameron Community Center.

All girls in the first through 12th grade and their parents, and adults interested in Girl Scouting are urged to attend the meeting.

More information may be obtained from the Lone Star Girl Scout Council at Po Box 9557, Austin 78766.

At one time Cameron had a thriving Girl Scout organization with Brownie troops, Girl Scout troops, and Cadette troops. It is hoped the interest among local girls and adults will be high enough to warrant re-forming the organization.

GED Tests For Adults Set At Milano High

The Milam County adult education program will administer the GED (General Education Development) test at Milano High School Saturday, Sept. 14 at 8:30 a.m. and Sat. Sept. 21 at 8:30 a.m.

Anyone who has participated in the program last year or is in this years program may take the test, according to Max McClaren, program director. Also anyone 18 years or older who does not have a high school diploma and would like to take the test is eligible. Jack Ruzicka, county counselor, will administer the test and fee is $12 per person.

Additional information is available at the County Superintendents office, 7-3001.

Lone Star Gas Files Request For Rate Hike

Lone Star Gas Company has filed an application with the Texas Railroad Commission asking for an increase in its city gate rate from 55.31¢ per thousand cubic feet including partial gas cost adjustments to 63.87¢ per thousand cubic feet, based completely on the increase in the company's weighted average cost of gas.

Upon Railroad Commission order, Lone Star would be permitted, under various city ordinances containing adjustment provisions, to make an immediate flow-through of the net increase. In other cases approval for increase in residential and commercial rates rests with local regulatory authority.

In Cameron, gas rates may be changed without permission of the city council, according to clause in the company's contract.

Emergency Act Offers Farm Loans

Financial assistance to livestock and poultry producers under the Emergency Livestock Credit Act has become available through a new loan guarantee authority of the Farmers Home Administration, a rural credit service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Henry N. Ivey, FmHA County Supervisor for the Milam County office, said the agency will be prepared to implement the recently enacted law by guaranteeing up to 80 percent of possible loss on loans made by legally organized lenders to livestock and poultry producers.

Under terms of the act, the loan guarantee program will be in effect through July 25, 1975. It may be extended for 6 months beyond that date if the Secretary of Agriculture determines that it is needed to help the livestock industry obtain sufficient credit.

The law calls for loans to be made by banks or other legally organized lenders. Ivey said interested producers are urged to make applications to, and complete loan arrangements with, lenders of their choice. The lender in turn will ask FmHA for a loan guarantee if one is required. The lender will process the application, close the loan and service it.

The maximum loan to any single borrower that can be assisted by an FmHA guarantee is $250,000. Loans may be repayable in 1 to 3 years, although renewal for 2 years may be authorized. Interest rates are determined between borrower and lender.

Ivey said the agency is authorized to guarantee up to 80 percent loss a lender may incur on loans to bonafide farmers and ranchers who breed raise, fatten, or market beef and dairy cattle, hogs, sheep, goats, chickens and turkeys. A majority of the borrower's income must come from the operation, and a majority portion of the borrower's time must be devoted to the livestock or poultry production.

In the case of a corporation or partnership, assistance can be extended only when the majority partners or stockholders are primarily engaged in the livestock or poultry production.

FmHA guarantees will be made only when the bonafide farmers or ranchers cannot obtain financing without a guarantee. Loans may not be used to expand operation.

Ivey said the county FmHA office serving the area where the borrower's livestock or poultry operations are conducted will handle requests from lenders for guarantees, or supply information on the loan guarantee program.

The FmHA office serving the Milam County area is located at 109 West 2nd St. Cameron.

Arts & Crafts Show Promises Variety

Cameron's first Arts and Crafts Show promises something for everyone with demonstrations of spinning, weaving, china painting, macrame, an (for the sportsman) fly tying continuing throughout the day at the Cameron Public Library, arts and crafts booths in the tree shaded City Park and barbeque, dessert and soft drink concessions in the historic park pavilion.

The show and sale is scheduled for Saturday, October 19.

Mrs. Don Humble, chairman for the Chamber of Commerce sponsored Arts and Crafts Show and Sale said display booths are now under construction and reservations for booth space are coming in from throughout the Central Texas area.

Deadline for reserving booth space is September 19 and booth reservation forms are available from the Cameron Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Humble said 40 arts and crafts booths will be set up at City Park.

Area-wide publicity is planned to assure a large crowd for the one day show and special parking arrangements have been made for visitors.

The Arts and Crafts Show was initiated by the newly organized Auxiliary to the Cameron Chamber of Commerce. Committee chairmen are Mrs. Don Humble, general chairman; Mrs. Richard Bush, food concessions; Mrs. Harry Tag and Mrs. Robert Ellett, library exhibits; Mrs. Carol Barr, guest accommodations.

Agents Fear 'French Connection'

By Bernard Edinger

Reuter--International narcotics agencies fear the notorious "French Connection" drug ring may be heading for a new lease of life following the reopening of Turkey's opium fields.

The ring's multimillion-dollar operation to pump drugs into the United States has been partially crippled by police action.

But officials are afraid the Turkish move -- while aimed at meeting legitimate pharmaceutical needs -- might lead to a fresh flood of illicit heroin to U. S. addicts.

According to reliable sources involved in checking the trafficking, France and West Germany would probably be the first countries to feel the impact of the new drug onslaught.

"The Turkish government decided to call off its ban on opium growing for political and economic reasons and is certainly very intent on seeing that the opium grown in Turkey is only sold on the open international market for pharmaceutical products," one high-ranking source said.

"But the Turkish farmer who sells a kilo of opium on the open market for about 80 U. S. dollars can sell the same to a drug trafficker for over 1,000 dollars.

"The Anatolian plateau where much of it comes from is hundreds of miles of isolated farmlands and it will be a hell of a problem to ensure that the opium goes the right way only," he added.

The Turkish government agreed, at American insistence, to ban opium growing several years ago in return for compensation to the Anatolian farmers.

But the ban has now been called off, much to the annoyance of the United States.

Some sources explained that Turkey had been particularly incensed at lucrative legal drug sales for pharmaceutical contracts... that went on other countries.

With the new legislation, police are preparing to tackle attempts by European underworld rings to bring illegal supplies to places like Marseilles and Hamburg for transformation into morphine base and then heroin for export to the U.S.

French police are particularly wary since the underworld in Marseilles, France's giant port on the Mediterranean, has all the expertise and connections to get the industry going again.

But they will have the coordinated drug enforcement agencies of the U. S. and France breathing hot down their necks.

Since the two countries decided to coordinate their efforts over three years ago, over 500 international drug traffickers have been arrested in France and many are now serving long sentences.

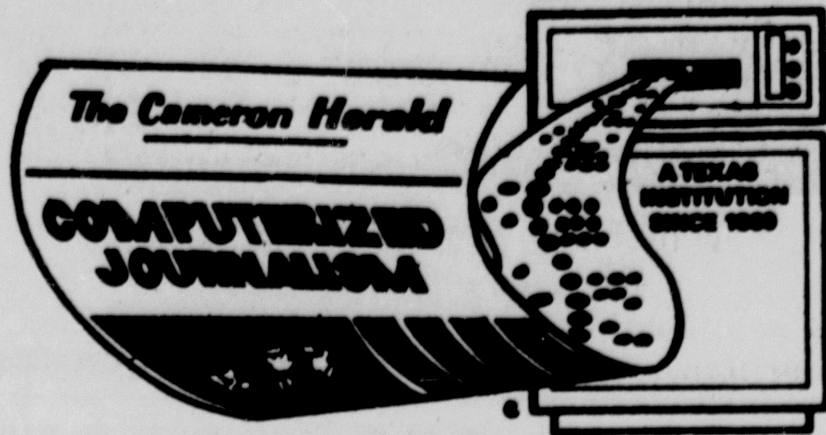

Giant seizures of drugs have been made, the last earlier this month with the arrests in New York and Marseilles of a group attempting to smuggle 75 kilo of heroin into the United States.

A kilogram of heroin is believed sold by French gangsters to their U. S. counterparts for about $5,200 dollars.

The American dealer usually cuts it up with other products and can earn up to $41,300 on the same product when selling it off to 'pushers' who themselves go through similar money-making processes.

Police believe an average drug haul into the U. S. by professionals can range between 70 to 100 kilos to the prime American buyer of up to four million dollars.

As if to underline their readiness to grapple with the new situation, a new agreement on combating drug trafficking was signed between U.S. and French police forced early in September -- a traditional harvest time in opium fields over the Middle East.

Bush To China: Trade, Not War

None is a more telling appointment than George Bush's assignment to Peking.

It leaves little doubt that President Ford is raising higher station in his new administration, though the Bush appointment is not an ambassadorship requiring Senate approval. He will head an American delegation previously directed by career diplomat David Bruce.

It was just a couple of weeks ago that Bush was next to Rockefeller and perhaps a step ahead for the vice-presidency. But Rockefeller's heft in gubernatorial experience and international finance, both a help and hindrance, got Ford's favor. Rumor also had it that some Nixon slush-funding got into Bush's 1970 campaign loss to Bentsen a rumor which Secretary of State Mark White said election records discredited.

What would this foretell? Well, Ford is keeping Bush at high diplomatic level to reinforce detente with the most populous nation. Bush had been ambassador to the UN in the Nixon years. The President is keeping the former GOP national chairman at world level influence in the decade that well could require foreign statesmanship as prerequisite for a run at the White House.

Ford's forte is not foreign relations. He is to the shell - shocked, post - Nixon GOP what Lyndon Johnson was to the post-Kennedy Democrats. So he is sending Bush, possibly the only GOP card carrier with the credentials to handle the Peking role.

Just because this Connecticut Texan is a millionaire, open-minded and a young 50 may be just what young leadership under an ailing Mao would find to their liking. In the scheme of things, China wants to trade with the West.

Bush, a Texas oilman, may be just the guy to open the largest market in the world to the U. S. and the West. The idea is vastly superior to a land war in Asia.

His career in politics is at a weightier station in China at 50 than being a vice - president in Washington for two and perhaps six, going on 57.

He'll be back.

So Is 'Half Mill'...

Well, a half-mill, that's street hip talk for a "cool half million dollars", is committed to Cameron for the next half dozen years.

The annual arrangements program finally was approved for Cameron, Mayor Gene Blake says, for $123,000 annually for three years, and the balance of $492,000 in another three years.

Despite inflation, that's a lot of improvement in parks recreation, streets, water and sewer and equipment around town. We hope recreation and parks is in line for a heavy percentage since so little has been spent in these areas in regular city budgeting. By comparison, little or nothing.

On a split vote, Council bought the corner lot opposite the old Milam Jail and the Milam Courthouse. Idea is, and it was a 3-2 vote, to bring government together in downtown area.

The lineup would be new jail, museum (old jail) new city hall with ample parking and access to the rear, the Courthouse across the street, a vacant area left open for a future Courthouse annex next to the new jail.

Neat? So is the "half mill".

Hong Kong Has Diamond Boom

By Chan Jok-Keung

HONG KONG
Reuter -- Hong Kong's diamond sales are booming with tourists flocking to the British colony, now an international diamond center, to buy precious stones as a safeguard against inflation.

Last year the colony sold a record 137 million U. S. dollars worth of diamonds, 63 per cent more than in 1972, and dealers confidently expect this to be surpassed this year.

Ricoa Lee, chairman of the Diamond Importers Association, is one of those who predicts a sizeable increase in sales.

Although local sales are showing some signs of levelling off, Lee says they will pick up later this year as the world economic situation improves and more people decide to invest in diamonds rather than see inflation fritter their cash away.

The upsurge of business in the last few years has made the British crown colony second only to Japan in the volume of its diamond sales, says Lee, whose association handles about 80 per cent of the diamonds imported here.

But Hong Kong sells its diamonds to tourists and foreigners as well as to members of the colony's four million strong populations, unlike Japanese traders who rely largely on the domestic market, Lee says.

Some of Hong Kong's diamonds find their way to Japan later.

The most expensive stone sold here in recent years was the 125.65 carat Jonker diamond, once owned by the late King Farouk of Egypt, which was bought by a Japanese businessman last year for four million U. S. dollars.

Exact figures for the diamond trade are sometimes sketchy, as so many are sold to foreigners who do not need to register them as exports when they take the stones home.

But trade figures for the diamond trade are sometimes sketchy, as so many are sold to foreigners who do not need to register them as exports when they take the stones home.

But trade figures show that while last year the colony imported 190 million dollars worth of polished diamonds, it re-exported diamonds worth only 50 million dollars.

While the re-exports go mainly to Europe, the United States and Singapore, the bulk of imported diamonds are sent to local shops or factories where they are set in rings, bracelets and other jewellery.

These are snapped up by eager tourists or wealthy Hong Kong residents.

Diamond importers believe the colony has become an international diamond center for several reasons. It is a free port with no duty or sales taxes on diamonds, so they can be sold cheaper here than anywhere else in the world.

Prices are also kept down because of keen competition among local jewellery shops, which has forced them to operate on a low-profit, high-turnover basis.

In addition, Hong Kong imports a sufficient variety of diamonds from the major cutting centers of the world to cater for the different tastes of customers, dealers say.

Finally the colony is just right for the diamond trade, with hordes of foreign tourists, running at well over a million a year, and its easy accessibility.

Briscoe OKs Grant For Law Equipment

Governor Dolph Briscoe has approved a grant of $53,240 to the Belton-based Central Texas Council of Governments for the purchase of technical and civil disorder equipment for use by 14 law enforcement agencies.

Types of equipment include crime-scene search, riot control and photography equipment, as well as technical equipment for recording systems. The purchases also will improve law enforcement record systems of the agencies.

The money comes from the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office. CJD administers the state's block grant

Paris Guide To Cheaper Eating

By Paul Majendie

PARIS

Reuter -- The fame of French cooking is spread across the world but many an unhappy visitor to Paris has found his appetite waning fast when he sees the prices in restaurants.

Now the French government, in a move to quell rumblings of complaint, has launched a campaign to tell the tourist where he can eat well without paying through the nose.

The campaign has begun with the publication here of a slim guide with the encouraging title of "737 Welcoming and Inexpensive Paris Restaurants."

The guide, to be available free at French tourist offices at home and abroad, is to be revised annually -- and to ensure that high standards are maintained at low prices, an annual prize will go to the restaurant giving best value.

Launching the book, French tourist chief, Jean Pierre Dannaud said, "The idea that France is an expensive country to visit is false. On the contrary our country is miraculously cheap in many of its restaurants and hotels."

But Dannaud has unbounded sympathy for the diligent tourist who tries to get to grips with the French mentality.

"This country is very difficult for a foreigner to penetrate. The language is tricky and the people reserved and secretive," he admitted with a rueful smile.

For every visitor to France one of the major attractions is eating in style and Dannaud stressed: "Restaurants are a field in which foreigners are most lost and in dire need of a guide. French cuisine is very individualistic and widely varied."

It is an area in which privately sponsored guides like Michelin and Gault-Millau, cater for the higher income bracket and where only the Relais Routiers, which list the superb roadside establishments where French truck drivers eat like kings, cater for the economy class.

Dannaud said "The Relais Routiers has clearly become a favorite guide for many foreigners so we decided to do the same for Paris."

He added, "Trips to the United States and Canada showed me that tourists were crying out for this sort of guidance. So our aim has been to discover what is not expensive and then develop it."

To do this the government tourist authority called on the restaurant trade for help in sending out a circular letter aimed at finding eating spots worth their weight in good food.

After widespread canvassing across the French capital the authority has drawn up a list of 737 restaurants that are split into three price under $2.50, under $3.50 and under five dollars.

Also listed are the opening times of each restaurant the month it closes for its annual holidays and the languages spoken by the owners

3 reasons for higher electric bills

If you're like most Texas Power & Light customers, the amount of your electric bill in recent months, and perhaps this month, is higher than it was at the same time last year.

There are three reasons why.

One major reason is increased usage of electric power. Air conditioning alone can account for a sizeable increase in your bill. During the summer of this year, there were many more days with temperature readings of 100 degrees or more than in 1973.

A second reason is that in March of this year the rising costs of producing and supplying electric power made it necessary for TP&L to obtain increases in the price of electricity.

Also, the amount you pay for electric service is subject to an adjustment based on the price TP&L must pay for the fuels needed to generate electric power. Our fuel costs are now more than 80% higher than they were last year and this increased cost is reflected in your bill.

Texas Power & Light has always worked to keep the price of electricity as low as possible, consistent with maintaining adequate and dependable service. We will continue to do so in the future.

State Fair Promises Many Colorful Events

The local entertainment forecast for October promises cowboys in the Coliseum, Mustangs in the Cotton Bowl and Debbie Reynolds on stage at the Music Hall.

Fair and fun is the prediction when the gates of the 1974 State Fair of Texas swing open corral-style for a 17 day "exposition of the West," October 4-20 at Fair Park in Dallas.

Bronc-busters and bull riders break from the chute October 5, in the first of nine State Fair Rodeo performances in the Coliseum. Top cowboys from the national rodeo circuit will compete for individual championships and more than $50,000 in prize money.

Colorful college football headlines Cotton Bowl events during this year's Fair. SMU - Oregon State, Prairie View - Grambling, Texas-Oklahoma and SMU - Virginia Tech, are scheduled for the 72,000 seat stadium.

A sparkling production of the recent Broadway hit, "Irene" starring Debbie Reynolds and Patsy Kelly, marks the second anniversary of the new Music Hall in Fair Park. Bright songs, dazzling choreography and a charming Cinderella story highlight this musical revival.

The popular Pan-American Livestock Exposition will offer fairgoers a look at prime rib on the hoof as champion beef cattle parade past the judges' stand. Horses, swine, sheep, goats, rabbits and poultry combine for a barnyard symposium attracting breeders, buyers and curious spectators of all ages.

Free outdoor entertainment includes marching bands, high-wire acts, versatile musical groups, parades and fireworks. Booths shops displays and demonstrations will garner attention in six mammoth exhibit halls. Multiple performances of an old fashioned three-ring circus are scheduled daily.

The Matchless Midway, Fall Season Begins At Six Flag

The fall season is in full swing at Six Flags over Texas as the Arlington theme park has begun its weekend operating schedule.

Six Flags' regular weekend hours will be 10:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. During the month of September the park will also be open on Friday evenings from 6:00 p.m. until midnight.

All of Six Flags' more than 100 rides, shows and attractions are in full operation for the fall season.

Along with the regular entertainment lineup, top-name stars are scheduled for special appearances in the park's Music Mill Theater. Among those currently booked for shows are the Stapel Singers, Johnny Rodriguez, Willie Nelson and Blue Swede.

On Thanksgiving weekend, Friday, November 29 through Sunday, December 1, Six Flags will be open from 10:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. each day.

December 1 is the last operating day of the 1974 season.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

A recent outbreak of ornithosis among turkeys in Central Texas has stimulated a thorough investigation into the source of the disease which can affect humans.

The disease--also known as psittacosis and parrot fever--is world wide in occurrence and is an occupational hazard of persons associated with pet shops, aviaries, pigeon lofts, poultry farms, and poultry processing and rendering plants, according to the Bureau of Veterinary Public Health of the State Health Department.

In humans it produces a pneumonia-like illness which may include fever, headache and cough. Human infections may be fatal but most often are mild in character if diagnosed and treated promptly.

Those at high risk should be aware of the possibility of infection.

The visible signs of ornithosis are similar to other poultry diseases, and a positive diagnosis can be made only by laboratory tests. Apparently healthy birds can transmit the disease.

Human infection is acquired usually by inhalation of the organism. It may be from the dust of dried droppings of infected birds in an enclosed space. Dust lingering in feathers also can be a source. The greatest incidence of infection among workers in past outbreaks occurred in the killing, plucking and eviscerating operations, where the organisms are through direct contact with infected birds. Transmission from man to man is rare, say health authorities.

The incubation time following exposure may range from four to 15 days, says the American Public Health Association's booklet, "Control of Communication Diseases in Man". It says that diseased birds may shed the agent intermittently throughout the infection period and sometimes continuously for weeks or months.

As far as is known, ornithosis has not occurred through household use of a poultry product which had been inspected for wholesomeness.

Texas housewives and restaurant operators can take heart in this. State Health Department officials say there is little possibility of a consumer contracting ornithosis while preparing a turkey or other fowl. Cooking temperatures destroy the organism.

New Ideas Developing For Using Junk Tires

The American Automobile Association reports that a number of experiments are either planned or under way to solve the problem of "junked" tires.

It may come as some surprise that this is a problem at all, but AAA's Environmental Affairs Department says that there are some 180 million discarded tires piling up--literally--every year.

In the past, tire retreaders made use of about 50 million of the better tire casings, and molded rubber products were made from some 20 million tires.

But a number of factors, including stiffer U.S. regulations for retreading tires, and cheaper synthetic rubber compounds, have done away with much of this type of recycling. Pollution laws, of course, forbid burning tires in the open air.

But now, according to the motoring organization, prospects for some extremely beneficial new roles for used tires are beginning to surface.

Several states are using finely chopped rubber as a binder in asphalt roads and this combination, while costly, extends road-life and reduces repair needs. But most important, the surfaces created from the mixture are less slippery and thus lessening the possibility of skidding, especially in wet weather.

Experiments with crash barriers made a scrap tires are now being conducted by the Federal Highway Administration and several universities. In one of the FHWA tests, a car traveling 56 miles an hour was totally demolished when it crashed into a pole. Another vehicle--protected by a scrap-tire barrier--was crashed into the pole at the same rate of speed, resulting in damage estimated at only $175. Observers also felt that is someone had been behind the wheel he could have walked away from the crash.

Tires piled on the bottom of the ocean in areas along the East Coast and in the Gulf of Mexico have made fishing far better by forming artificial reefs around which huge numbers of fish cluster.

Since tires neither pollute water nor decompose in it, this recycling method could make a lot of old tires disappear: AAA says the U.S. Interior Department's Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife estimates that more than a billion old tires could be used to form artificial reefs.

The most innovative, if costly use for old tires is the discovery that they can be burned as fuel in specially-designed incinerators. Rubber manufacturers say that burning tires yield 50 per cent more heat energy per pound than coal.

Until this process becomes practicable, used tires could be stockpiled in such areas as abandoned stone quarries where, covered with water, they would remain intact.

The music faculty in the School of Fine Arts at Southwestern University will be the conductor of the choral group. Nick Boltz, choral director in Killean high school, will be associated conductor. Dr. Ellsworth Peterson of the music faculty at Southwestern University will be accompanist and will also conduct an in-depth study of works to be performed.

Auditions for the mixed chorus include the singing of a prepared piece of the singer's choice. An accompanist will be available for the auditions. The singer should list choral works and solo roles performed in the past. Regular rehearsals will be scheduled in the Recital Hall in the Alma Thomas Fine Arts Center at Southwestern University on Monday evenings.

The group will be performing classic choral literature, including works of Mozart, Brahms, Handel, and others. Kenny Sheppard of Moslem's believe that an agave leaf over their doors will ward off evil spirits.

Chorale Seek New Singers

An opportunity is available for singers in the Area to join a new choral organization, CENTRAL TEXAS CHORALE, being formed in School of Fine Arts at Southwestern University.

The group will be performing classic choral literature, including works of Mozart, Brahms, Handel, and others. Kenny Sheppard of

Yoemen Open With Victory

The Yoemen scored their first victory in their first outing of the season Friday night. After two strong pre-season scrimmages the Yoemen showed their readiness by beating the Taylor Ducks 22-12. The Ducks are rated number two in that strong 12-AAA district but they didn't seem to be up to the expectations of sports writers and raters.

The Taylor Ducks won the toss and elected to receive and Gene Kopriva booted the first ball of the season. The first quarter seemed to be a punting contest. Taylor netted the only first down during the whole quarter. The Ducks gained 39 yards rushing and the Yoemen rushed for 30.

The Ducks scored first during the second quarter. The one-yard touchdown was set up when Eugene DeLa Rosa, a halfback for the Ducks, caught a pass and scrambled 26 yards to the one yard line. Bruce Turner, quarterback, made the easy score as he plunged in over the middle.

As the quarter was nearing the end, Gary Hornung 82 caught a pass from starting quarterback Jeff Smitherman to put the Yoemen deep in Duck territory. Jafus White received a pass from Smitherman to cross the goal line, and score the first Cameron TD. Kicking specialist Gene Kopriva was successful on his PAT attempt to put the Yoemen ahead, 7-6. The second half ended with no more scoring and the Yoemen went to the dressing room with the slight lead.

Willy Bell received the kick-off which started the second half of play. The first offensive series of the second half was stopped by a strong Duck defense. Kopriva punted the ball to the Ducks and the ball was dead on the Duck 44. Gene Barnett of Taylor scrambled to the Yoe 29 and on the next play he was again called on to fight his way down to the 3 yard line. Duck quarterback Bruce Turner called a pass play which he completed to Elroy Stoglin for their second TD. Their second PAT attempt also failed.

A personal foul against the Taylor coaching staff seemed to stimulate the Yoemen offensive attack. Moving the ball on the ground the Yoemen offense worked the ball down to the 3 yard line. With a sure touchdown in sight the Yoemen were then penalized for delay of game. Two plays later Smitherman went to the air with a quick pass to tight end Gary Hornung for the TD. Coach Cauley sent in the play for the Yoemen to go for the two point conversion. Smitherman passed the ball to halfback Dennis Hollas who was all alone for the two points.

In the opening minutes of the fourth quarter the Ducks couldn't establish an offensive drive. They were forced to punt and the Yoemen started a time consuming drive. The final Yoemen score came late in the fourth quarter as Gene Kopriva made repeated first down plays. Smitherman elected to stay on the ground and use Hornung as the vehicle for the final score. The PAT was successful and the score was then 22 to 12. The final gun sounded with the Yoemen over the Ducks, the number two team in district 12-3A.

After the game Taylor Head Coach Frazier gave praise to the Yoemen team and speculated the Yoemen could easily be district champs.

Belton Scores On Errors

Plagued by mistakes the Hearne Eagles lost their season opener against Belton with a final score of 28 - 6. David Orepke of Belton scored in the first quarter when he scrambled in from the 10. A Hearne fumble on a punt set the Belton Tigers up for the short score. The point after touchdown was straight through the uprights as Sr. Ted Williams was credited with the point.

The second quarter was a stalemate and the players went in at half-time with a 7-0 lead over the Eagles.

Early in the third quarter Belton scored after a fumble on the kick-off. Tiger quarterback Roy Steger connected with Erick Nelson for the yard touchdown. Williams was again called on for the PAT and was successful.

Hearne scored their only touchdown during the fourth quarter. Sophomore Lester Davis intercepted a pass from Steger to fight his way for the 22 yard touchdown.

Belton again took command of the ball game when they scored 2 quick touchdowns. Brian Sweeney scampers across the goal line from 38 yards out to make the score 21-6. Once again the Hearne Eagles faltered on a missed assignment and set up an easy score for the Tigers. David Russell had the honor as he took the pig skin in from the 6. Williams scored his fourth point of the night as his PAT was on target.

Belton will come up against another strong team next week when they face Brenham. Brenham is rated number two in the 11-AAA district. The Hearne Eagles will have an open date to reorganize the team and try to correct some of their careless mistakes.

Rockdale Stomps Bulldogs

Rockdale found easy victory Friday night when they stomped Copperas Cove 52 - 0. Rockdale took early command over the Bulldogs and tallied 285 net yards rushing against 130 for the Bulldogs.

Everyone on the Tiger team had a chance to score when all offensive and defensive efforts by the Bulldogs failed. The Tiger showed no mercy on their opponents as they continued to score throughout the fourth quarter.

The Tigers unvailed an impressive offense which netted them 24 first downs against the Bulldogs 9. The Rockdale Tigers will play the Yoemen on their home field Sept. 13 in a try to recapture the Bell.

Buckholts Bows To Milano

Buckholts was downed by the Milano Eagles 40-29 Friday night. Both teams were plagued by injuries that will surely hurt them in district play. Head Coach for the Milano Eagles, Jerry Greer, said "the game was rough and costly to both squads."

Dwight Wilson, Sr. halfback had the honor of carrying the ball from the 1 yard line for the first score. He was then called on to kick the PAT which was successful. Monte Williams, freshman for Buckholts scored on a 25 yard run. Quarterback Carl Tomascik was called on for the PAT and the attempt was good.

Quarterback David Gunnels of Milano went to the air to connect with Ronald Westbrook for the 22 yard touchdown. Wilson's was again successful with his second PAT. Another quick score was made when Glen Downey of Milano intercepted a pass and evaded tackles for 37 yards. The point after touchdown failed.

In the third quarter of play Montey Williams of the Badgers scrambled 23 yards to put the second TD on the board for his team.

In the final quarter of play Dwight Wilson of the Eagles ran the ball in for the TD and the PAT attempt failed. Early Webb of the Badgers scored the third touchdown and Tomascik kicked the ball through the uprights for the point.

Milano then retaliated with a pass play from Gunnels to Meyers from 9 yards out. Once again the PAT attempt failed. Buckholts' Danny Krall passed to Webb for the final touchdown of the night from 16 yards out. The final was Milano over the Badgers 40 to 29.

In next weeks action the Buckholts Badgers will face Milford in a non-district game. Milano will have an open date after this victory over the Badgers.

Over 9½ million Americans are on the Payroll Savings Plan.

Maybe they know something you don't.

Maybe they know it's easier to save money you never see. So they sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan. And specify an amount to be set aside from each paycheck to buy U.S. Savings Bonds.
And maybe they know Bonds are one of the best ways to feel secure about your savings. Because you always get back what you paid. Plus interest.
So maybe you'd better talk to your payroll people. And join the 9½ million already on the Payroll Savings Plan. Soon.

Take stock in America.
